DETAILED ACTION

CLAIMS PRESENTED

Claims 1-16 are presented.

Applicant's arguments filed have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The amendment newly added the feature of "in an initial authentication communication with said server computer." Nevertheless, in an initial authentication communication with a server computer, the communication itself may comprise multiple communications. Thus, the claims have not been broadened enough to overcome the rejections. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., the initial communication being so limited to a single communication as asserted in the Remarks section of the Amendment) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

CLAIM REJECTIONS

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains.

Art Unit: 2134

Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lewis and Jacobs (references cited in the previous Office Action).

Regarding claims 1-12, the references teach as noted in the previous Office Actions.

The amendment newly added the feature of "in an initial authentication communication with said server computer." Nevertheless, in an initial authentication communication with a server computer, the communication itself may comprise multiple communications. Thus, the claims have not been broadened enough to overcome the rejections.

Regarding claims 13-16, these claims are broader than claim 1. For the reasons noted in the rejection of claim 1, these claims are not patentable.

Conclusion

The art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The art disclosed general background.
